

5

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The ability to combine a plurality of remote read miss requests and/or a plurality of exclusive access requests into a single network packet for efficiently utilizing network bandwidth. This combination exists for a plurality of processors in a network configuration. In contrast, other solutions have inefficiently utilized network bandwidth by individually transmitting a plurality of remote read miss requests and/or a plurality of exclusive access requests via a plurality of network packets.

10